SENATOR SMOOT KEEPS HIS SEAT

Senate Decides that Utah Mormon Is Entitled to Seat by a Vote of 42 to 28.

GALLERIES AND FLOOR OF SENATE ARE CROWDED

End of Long Struggle to Unseat Smoot—Congratulations Showered on Senator, Who Had Retired from Floor

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—Senator Reed Smoot retains his seat in the United States senate. This was decided today by a vote of 42 to 28, ending the long contest.

Eighteen senators paired, making the actual standing on the resolution 51 for and 37 against. Senator Smoot did not vote.

The Smoot resolution was called up soon after the senate convened. Every seat in the galleries was filled and during the actual voting the standing room on the floor of the senate was crowded by members of the house and employees of the senate.

There had been numerous speeches for and against Smoot since the resolution to unseat him was reported from the committee, just prior to the adjournment of congress last year. Today Senators Dubois, Hansborough, Newlands, Bacon and Burrows, the latter chairman of the committee, spoke against Smoot, while Beveridge, Dolliver and Foraker spoke for him.

Smoot Leaves Floor

When the voting began Smoot retired to the Republican cloak room to await the result. Senator Hopkins of Illinois offered an amendment to the committee resolution which was adopted. Under this a two-thirds vote would have been necessary to carry the resolution, which declared that Smoot is not entitled to his seat. Carmack then offered as a substitute a simple resolution declaring that Smoot should be "expelled." It was defeated.

Then came the vote on the committee resolution as amended, which was as follows:

"Resolved, That, two-thirds of the senators present concurring, that Reed Smoot is not entitled to a seat as senator of the United States from the state of Utah."

Surprises in Vote

Although it was a foregone conclusion that the resolution would fail and thus end the long fight against the Utah senator, the roll call contained some surprises. Of the forty-two votes in favor of Smoot, three were cast by Democrats. Of the twenty-eight votes against, nine were Republicans.

At the conclusion of the voting there was a rush of senators to the cloak room to congratulate Mr. Smoot. A large number of the members of the house followed. The senior Utah senator was patted on the back and his hands shaken in hearty fashion by the men who expressed their admiration of his bearing in the long and trying ordeal through which he had passed. On the floor of the senate and in the galleries it was many minutes before order could be restored.

Although the substance of the new treaty was not made public, it was said by a member of the publishers' association that there is now a clear understanding between the publishers and the unions.

SAFES CRACKED BY WHOLESALE

Six in One Block at Bellingham, Wash., Robbed in One Night by Experts

By Associated Press.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., February 20.—Six safes were cracked here last night, all located in offices within a block of the corner of Dock and Holly streets, the business center of the city. The work was done by experts, the operators apparently having no difficulty in opening the safes. In each instance the office doors were forced with a chisel and the combinations of the safes broken with a hammer and a punch. Two of the safes were located in the Lighthouse block, in adjoining offices.

No large sums were secured, the amounts ranging from $250 down. Nothing but money was taken, in one instance $1,500 in checks being rejected. Among the safes cracked were those of Mayor Black and Customs Officer Knox.

Boutelle explained the object of his bill now pending in congress.

PENITENTIARY FOR STANDARD

That's What Bailey Says He Promised if It Re-entered State of Texas

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, February 20.—"I gave them a written opinion in which I stated that if they attempted to do business in the state they would be put in the penitentiary and their property absorbed in fines and penalties."

This is the answer Senator Bailey says he gave the Standard Oil officials when they asked him about the chances for re-entering Texas. Mr. Bailey made this statement today before the legislative investigation commission in detailing his relations with the Standard Oil and Waters-Pierce Oil companies. The request for an opinion came, Bailey said, immediately after the Beaumont boom.

Bailey on the witness stand today denied in every detail all the charges preferred against him and stated that much of the evidence was in the line of criticism more than facts. The committee itself objected to the reports in circulation that they were in conspiracy to effect the arrest of H. Clay Pierce, which is outlined in specials to Texas papers.

Bailey told an interesting story of his financial deals and maintained that in all his actions his deeds had been honorable and above reproach. He declared that there was not the shadow of truth in the charges that he had accepted money for political services rendered the Waters-Pierce Oil company.

Bailey denied that his efforts in behalf of his clients had any effect upon his public duties. His attendance upon sessions of congress were as regular as any other member. It was impossible for a lawyer who was a member of congress to engage in general practice because of conflicting sessions of court and congress.

Before his death Kiser charged Nicolas Chavez and Rafael Romero, Mexicans, with the crime. He said they entered his house after he had retired and one throttled him while the other secured his gun and shot him. Both men are under arrest and were held to the grand jury. Both deny their guilt.

Kiser staggered to the door after being wounded and called for help, which came quickly, but not until after the Mexicans had departed.

POSTAL CLERKS GIVEN INCREASE

House Passes Largest Postoffice Appropriation Bill Ever Reported in Congress.

CLERKS AND CARRIERS GET SUBSTANTIAL RAISE

Senate Passes Naval Appropriation Bill at Session Last Night and Also Rivers and Harbors Appropriation.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 20.—The postoffice appropriation bill, the largest ever reported, passed the house today. All provisions relating to increased pay, affecting 90 per cent of the postal employees, which yesterday were stricken out on points of order, were today restored to the bill. This was accomplished by the rule presented by the committee on rules after the bill had been reported to the house by the committee of the whole. Points of order were the features of the day, the battle over the provisions in the bill continuing throughout the session.

An amendment by Crumpacker of Indiana fixing at $480 a year the limit of rent for third-class postoffices, was adopted. This represents an increase of $80 a year. The chair was sustained in recognizing the point of order made against the amendment offered by Murdock of Kansas that no part of the sum paid for the transportation of mails by railroads be expended in payment where the average weight of mail per day computed by the use of a "divisor less than the whole number of days such mails have been weighed."

Murdock declared that this amendment did not change existing law, but it was a limitation. The chair, however, held otherwise, and the decision sustaining the point was supported by the house. When the item appropriating $17,339,000 for the pay of employees of the railway mail service was reached Macon of Arkansas made a point of order against the paragraph that it increased the salaries and the point was sustained.

Rurals Not Increased

Fitzgerald of New York, in conformity with his pledge of yesterday, made a point of order against the paragraph increasing the pay of rural free delivery carriers and the chair sustained the point. The remainder of the bill was adopted without debate. The committee of the whole then arose and Currier of New Hampshire reported the bill to the house with the amendments, which were adopted. Before the bill was put upon its final passage Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania reported the rule restoring all paragraphs stricken out yesterday having relation to increases in salaries of clerks in first and second class offices, city and rural carriers, railway mail clerks, and making a number of important changes from the bill as reported to the house from the committee on postoffices and post roads.

Clerks Get Increase

By the terms of the amendments reported from the committee on rules, seven grades of clerks were established in first and second class offices, with salaries ranging from $600 to $1,200. City letter carriers are divided into five grades, with salaries ranging from $600 to $1,100, the $700 salaries being omitted. Railway clerks are divided into six grades below that of chief clerk, the salaries of each grade having been increased $100 and ranging from $800 to $1,700. The maximum salary of rural carriers is fixed at $840.

Two new provisions are added, one providing that the postmaster general may in his discretion allow a railway mail clerk thirty days sick leave in any fiscal year with pay, his duties to be performed without expense to the government during the period for which he is granted leave, and the other that carriers who on June 30, 1907, are regularly employed at $800 per annum shall be promoted from the fourth grade upon satisfactory evidence of their efficiency during at least one year's service.

An order was adopted directing the insertion in the bill of recommendations of the postal commission relating to the readjustment of railway mail pay by the postmaster general, beginning July 1. The bill was then read the third time and passed.

Million for Navy

WASHINGTON, February 20.—The naval appropriation bill, carrying $100,727,607, was passed by the senate tonight in fifty-two minutes. All the committee amendments were agreed to.

The only amendments adopted added $250,000 to the item for coal transportation and $130,000 for a powder plant at the Norfolk navy yard.

Senator Culberson notified the senate committee that he had doubted that the amount was for coal as stated. He asked if these items had reference to the gathering of large fleets, such as the president was in the habit of doing, or to the forthcoming Jamestown exposion in Virginia. Hale replied that the expenses of the navy in times of peace for ammunition were large. He did not believe any considerable amount of the fund would be used on account of the Jamestown exposition, although he said that the exposition seemed to be developing into more of a military show than anything else.

Stone of Missouri said that the annual consumption of powder by the army and navy was about five million pounds; that it cost the government 75 cents a pound, and that the government could manufacture this powder for about half that amount.

The senate tonight also passed the rivers and harbors appropriation bill, carrying a total of $92,720,472. All committee amendments were agreed to.

TAWNEY SAVES MONEY FOR THE GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—As the result of the action of Chairman Tawney of the house appropriations committee last year in having the general deficiency bill amended so that it prohibited heads of departments from creating deficiencies without full explanations to congress and then only in cases of extraordinary emergency, the amount of deficiencies for this year will be only about $2,500,000, as against $3,300,000 last year.

REFORMER JAILED FOR LOBBYING IN UTAH

By Associated Press.

BOISE, Idaho, February 20.—Rev. G. L. Tufts of Portland, representing the Pacific Coast Reform Bureau, was arrested by Sergeant at Arms Miles of the house just after adjournment today. He is charged with lobbying and will have a hearing in the morning. Tufts is working for the Sunday rest law. His bill was acted on favorably by the committee of the whole in the house this afternoon.

FLORENCE MAY GET NEW PRISON

Legislators from Pinal County Introduce Bills to Locate the Pen Near that Town.

KIBBEY WILL TALK ON MINE TAX BILLS

Hunt Eulogizes Late Al Sieber and Council Passes Resolutions Expressing Sorrow for Death of Old Scout.

Special to the Silver Belt.

PHOENIX, Ariz., February 20.—The chief development today in the legislature was the rapid progress in the direction of prison removal. The house passed the council substitute for the appointment by the governor of a commission to locate sites for the prison and reform school, though it was understood that an opposition was being organized. But the substitute was brought into the house before the plans had been formed and went through without a dissenting voice.

Weedin in the council and Guild in the house offered a bill for the location of the prison at Florence. It is proposed to give the territory for that purpose, without reserve, 160 acres of land, with water rights, adjacent to Florence. In anticipation of the location, there has been reserved for the territory a tufa stone quarry of twenty acres near by. The bill appropriates $50,000 out of the treasury for a prison building fund and augments this by a levy of 10 cents on each $100.

Recess Till Monday

Both houses will have a recess on account of Washington's birthday until Monday. A meeting of the committee on mines and mining will be addressed tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock by Governor Kibbey. Both the Doran and the Weedin bills will be considered. The former bill was reported back this afternoon with an amendment inserting a clause giving continued effect to the Andrews law. This was merely a precaution, for it was not generally understood that the bill abrogated that law. Such an objection had, however, been made.

It is understood that Governor Kibbey, when he addresses the committee on mines and mining tomorrow morning, will ask for legislation other than that provided by the Doran and Weedin bills, as he does not consider that either of them will be adequate and in keeping with his ideas on the proper taxation of mines.

New Legislation

Among the new bills are:

By Krook, amending the public printing law.

By Crenshaw, confining exemptions of widows and orphans to residents of the territory.

By Wallace, exempting from the butchers' license law those who may kill their own stock in a small way. They shall take the hide and meat to an inspector and shall pay a fee of 5 cents each and receive regulation as to the time within which the meat shall be sold.

The house defeated the bill increasing the salary of probate judges and the council passed the bill raising the salary of district attorney in counties of the first class to $2,400.

Tribute to Al Sieber

Though the session is one day over half finished, only two bills have reached the governor. Ninety-nine have been introduced in the house and eighty-one in the council.

Hunt of Gila today paid an eloquent tribute to the late Al Sieber and introduced a resolution expressing the sorrow of the council, which was adopted.

JEROME SHOWS LITTLE MERCY

Does not Mince Words in Quizzing Mrs. Thaw—Familiar With Details of Her Life.

ADMITS RECEIVING MONEY FROM WHITE

Young Woman Proves a Match for Prosecutor—Jerome Is Aided by Statements from Relatives of Witness.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, February 20.—In continuing the cross examination of Mrs. Thaw today at the trial of her husband District Attorney Jerome brought out the fact that in 1902 Stanford White deposited $1,350 with the New York Trust company with instructions that it should be paid to Evelyn Nesbit at the rate of $25 a week. Mrs. Thaw frankly admitted receiving a number of checks from the Trust company, but would not admit that there was a provision that she should receive the money only when out of employment. The prosecutor spent nearly the entire afternoon trying to make Mrs. Thaw admit this was true, but she gave one answer, "I don't remember."

Mrs. Thaw's inability to remember a number of other things about which Jerome questioned her was by far the most material element in the cross examination. The district attorney delved into her past life with a familiarity which at times seemed to amaze all who heard, not excepting the defendant's counsel.

No Mercy from Jerome

Jerome indicated early that he had no disposition to spare Mrs. Thaw's feelings in any way. He interrogated her most pointedly as to her men acquaintances of the past. He laid special stress upon her acquaintance with James A. Garland, who figured for the first time in the case. Mrs. Thaw said she knew Garfield before she met White.

"Weren't you named as co-respondent in the Garland divorce case?" asked Jerome.

Mrs. Thaw was shaking her head when Delmas quickly objected. He demanded that the record of the divorce case be brought into court that it might speak for itself. Justice Fitzgerald overruled the objection, but Jerome withdrew the question.

Never Posed in the Nude

Jerome questioned the witness about her manner of posing for artists, which brought from her a denial that she ever posed in the nude. Jerome did not mince words. Many photographs of Mrs. Thaw were introduced in evidence.

Jerome during the morning session plied the young woman with questions as to what disposition she had made of the letters written her by White.

Some, she said, had been destroyed and some she had given to her husband.

When the district attorney was pressing for an answer, Thaw leaned far over and whispered to his counsel:

"Stanford White stole them."

Attorney O'Reilly thereupon said: "Stanford White got them."

Jerome Sarcastic

"If counsel desires to testify we would be very glad to have him do it," Jerome remarked sarcastically.

Later Jerome indicated that he had in his possession a number of letters written by White to Evelyn Nesbit, saying that he would show her the letters to see if they would not bring aid to her memory. He changed his mind, however, and the letters were not produced.

Jerome was assisted materially in the cross examination by typewritten statements made by Mrs. Thaw's mother and Howard Nesbit, her brother.

Jerome's cross examination may require several days yet. He apparently intends to take every advantage of the ruling which allows a wide latitude in testing the credibility of the witness.

Delmas, contrary to expectations, interposed but few objections today. Mrs. Thaw seemed perfectly self possessed at every stage of the cross examination. At times her voice trembled, but always was clear and emphatic. She fenced with the prosecutor continuously, corrected him at times and occasionally told him his questions were entirely too long to permit of proper answer.

Constitutional Democrats in Russia Go Down to Defeat in Election

ST. PETERSBURG, February 21.—At 2 o'clock this morning the success of the radicals in the parliamentary election was known. Late returns show that 351 radicals are elected. At midnight Professor Milukoff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats, admitted the results spelled defeat for his party. The results indicate an overwhelming majority in opposition to the government reforms and a majority against the extremist demand for the immediate destruction of parliament. A rumor that the date of the opening of the douma will be postponed is denied by the ministry. It will meet March 5, as previously arranged. After the officers of the douma are elected the ministerial program with the financial budget will be introduced and the douma be left to work out its own fate.

RAILROAD MEN AGAINST SIXTEEN HOUR BILL

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—H. R. Fuller, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Trainmen, and the Order of Railway Conductors, talked tonight with President Roosevelt about the bill pending in the house limiting to sixteen hours a day's work on railroads. Fuller told the president that the railroad unions are opposed to the house substitute for the La Follette bill, and that they would rather have no legislation than that of the house bill. The president, it is said, is in favor of the measure limiting to sixteen hours the labor for railroad employees.

ATTACK JEWS IN ODESSA STREETS

Business Suspended While the Mob Rules and Police Act as Spectators

By Associated Press.

ODESSA, February 20.—Street attacks by the Union of True Russians, the reactionary organization, are daily assuming a more dangerous character and have brought about conditions of extreme nervousness among the residents of the city, especially the Jews. Business has been adversely affected, the grain bourse has been closed and financial transtctions have been suspended.

Gangs of roughs invade shops and restaurants belonging to Jews, order the proprietors to throw up their hands and then plunder and ransack the premises. Today a Jew drew a revolver in self defense. He was immediately seized and conveyed to a deserted courtyard, where his arms and legs wree cut off. Pedestrians are stopped in broad daylight and asked whether they are Jews or Christians and sometimes are made to produce their passports. If they are Jews they are brutally beaten. The police make no effort whatever to suppress the anti-Semitic disorders and fill the role of mere onlookers.

Local educational institutions and commercial interests have repeatedly made requests to Premier Stolypin for official intervention, but have received nothing more than evasive, unsatisfactory assurances that cases referred to will be investigated.

Inhabitants of the city have come to the decision to suspend business as a sign of protest until the outrages are no longer tolerated by the authorities. Both universities here and many high schools have been closed as a protest against the outrages.

This evening two sailors shot and killed Captain Zolotaroff, who had arrested some comrades who were on a strike.

REVOLUTIONISTS KILLED WHILE TRYING TO ESCAPE

By Associated Press.

CARACAS, Venezuela, February 20.—An official version of the death of the insurgent general, Antonio Parades, declares that Parades and several officers were killed while attempting to escape. Parades landed at Pedernales, captured a small detachment of coast guardsmen and arms and then, after a little fighting, got possession of the guardhouse and town hall. Te took the chief of the coast guard and mayor of the town prisoners.

Meanwhile he was being pursued by government forces, one of which discovered him February 12 at El Rosario and captured him with his followers. With the prisoners the troops went to Ciudad Bolivar. The prisoners, taking advantage of the negligence of their guards, attacked the captors and in the fight General Parades and several of his officers were killed.

SENSATION IN ADAMS' TRIAL

Insane Man Tells the Court that He Slew the Alleged Victim of Steve Adams.

McPARTLAND DENIES THIRD DEGREE CHARGE

Detective Says He Did not Sweat Adams to Make Him Confess — Not Employed Against the Federation.

By Associated Press.

WALLACE, Idaho, February 20.—"It is the heart that moves the hand. I am the man who killed Fred Tyler. Turn all these other fellows loose, for I am the man that done the deed."

This was the announcement which startled Judge Wood's court this morning. A small dark stranger with long black hair and stubby beard standing up beside Steve Adams proclaimed himself guilty of the crime for which Adams is on trial. A commotion followed. Mrs. Adams burst into tears. Adams himself turned pale.

Seized by two officers, the stranger was hurried from the courtroom to the sheriff's office. There he said his name was Patrick C. Ryan of Butte; he had just finished a term in the Deer Lodge penitentiary for stealing mutton and after being released, had gone to Burke, where Roosevelt's daughter told him to come to Wallace and take charge of the case. He said that if Adams were convicted an earthquake would destroy Coeur D'Alene. Ryan will be committed to the asylum. Adams says he does not know the man.

This morning's session of court was taken up mainly with the reading of testimony given by Coroner Kees at the preliminary hearing, the attorneys having agreed to this method owing to the coroner's illness. The reading had not been concluded when court adjourned.

McPartland on Stand

At the trial today the feature was the evidence of Detective James McPartland, who testified that he has been the manager of the Pinkertons for twelve years and has been connected with it forty years. He has never been employed specifically against the Western Federation of Miners, he said, but instances had arisen where he had found them to commit crimes. He denied that he had agreed with Governor Gooding and Warden Whitney to subject Adams to five or six days solitary confinement, that at the end of that time he would be ready to "cough it all up."

He denied that he had administered what is known as the "third degree" to Adams. The third degree means subjection to solitary confinement and then asking and leading the prisoner to confess. He denied that he had made any arrangements by which Adams and Orchard should be locked together and that he had called from time to time to see what progress Orchard was making towards getting Adams to corroborate his confession. He admitted that he went to see Adams February 26, 1906, with a view to getting him to confess.

Talked Nice to Adams

He admitted that he took him to the inner room of the warden's office, gave him a cigar and told him he was a friend, and admitted telling Adams of his past history. He admitted a lengthy dissertation to Adams on his duty towards society, his wife, family and daughter. McPartland also admitted telling him that he was the man who "busted up" the Molly Maguires in Pennsylvania, and admitted that he repeatedly had told Adams that the "state always acted fair by those who acted fair by it."

The witness admitted that a nice lunch had been served both and that in the afternoon he said he got Adams "mellow ripe," and had made him believe he would be better off to tell all. He referred to the Western Federation as criminals and he said Adams seemed to agree with him. He denied that threats had been used or inducements held out, but designated the whole transaction as a "business proposition."

The examination was conducted in a theatrical manner by E. F. Richardson and the courthouse was packed to the doors.

Thiele Corroborates

C. S. Thiele confirmed the testimony of McPartland with regard to times, places and dates. Thiele denied that shortly after Adams' arrest he told him that "All you have to do is to go to Boise, do what these fellows want, and you will be all right." He denied that he had told Mrs. Adams that they did not shackle Steve because they did not want to make him mad but wanted to make a good impression. He admitted that there were several statements of Adams and all related to different matters, but all were got at the same time.

During the taking of the testimony the jury was taken out of the courtroom until the relevancy of the confession can be established. But the circumstances under which it was given will be laid before them by the defense.
