W. H. Shorey has for some time past had quite an attraction at the front of his place of business—three mice, which he had caught in a trap and placed in the cage in which is a revolving cylinder, same as is often seen in a squirrel cage. The mice have become quite tame and have taken quite a liking to the cylinder ride, and are spinning it around most of the time to the amusement of passersby.

Buck Kelley Here,

Buck Kelley, editor and proprietor of the Moberly (Mo.) Monitor, one of the oldest and best newspapers of North Missouri, arrived in Yuma yesterday, and called at the Sentinel office. Mr. Kelley has some valuable placer mining property at Monitor, near Gila City, in this county, and he is here to look after it. He is impressed with the great improvement in Yuma since his last visit here.

The Holland Submarine Boat.

All our readers are familiar with the Holland submarine boat, with which it is possible to go about completely under water. If the enemy have a big war ship lying in a strongly fortified harbor the boat can be submerged and make its way to the ship, place a powerful explosive under it and blow it to pieces without appearing above water. While this boat secretly destroys ships of the enemy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters likewise attacks and overcomes dangerous diseases. A few doses will give relief in any stomach, liver or blood disorder. The Bitters not only cure the sick, but prevent the well from becoming sick. It should be taken by all who need a strengthening tonic.

Arrested for Smuggling.

Juan Dominques and L. Dominques, residents of The Colony just below the Mexican boundary line, were arrested Monday by Deputy U. S. Marshal Wilder on a charge of smuggling 48 pounds of cheese across the line. The warrant was sworn out by Deputy Collector Hood. The case is set for next Saturday and will be tried before U. S. Commissioner Harry Carpenter. Peter T. Robertson is attorney for defendants.

High Pressure Days.

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the praiseworthy effort to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high pressure days.

Sent to the Asylum.

William Wyncoop Watkins was tried before Probate Judge Frank last week and was adjudged insane, Dr. Moller being the examining physician. The unfortunate man was taken to the asylum at Phoenix on Monday night's train by Sheriff Livingston. Mr. Watkins has been living alone at his ranch in the Colorado valley for several years. He is quite an old man and was formerly possessed of unusual intellectual attainments, considerable wealth, and a good education, covering the arts and sciences, in which latter he was exceptionally well versed. His mind is supposed to have become unbalanced from living alone and brooding over financial reverses which have marked his life in the west. One of his hallucinations is that the J. Pierrepont Morgan sydicate is indebted to him in the sum of two millions of dollars and will not pay him.

A Raging, Roaring Flood

Washed down a telegraph line which Chas. C. Ellis, of Lisbon, Ia., had to repair. "Standing waist deep in icy water," he writes, "gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Finally the best doctors in Oakland, Neb., Sioux City and Omaha said I had consumption and could not live. Then I began using Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles." Positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. At Cotter's drug store. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

Simultaneous Filings.

Judge George H. Miles has returned from Tucson, where he had been looking after his land filings at the U. S. land office. Judge Miles and one John Lynn made simultaneous filings for the same tract of land. In cases of this kind the government permits the parties to make cash bids, the highest bidder getting the land in question. In this instance Judge Miles knocked the persimmon, his bid being $110.00 and Lynn's $51.

Another case of the same kind occurred last week, the parties being J. B. Rathbun and Miss Emily Harbolt. Rathbun bid $20 and secured the land, Miss Harbolt having failed to offer a cash consideration.

Both of these claims are located in the Algodones tract west of Yuma.

Holds Up a Congressman.

"At the end of the last campaign," writes Champ Clark, Missouri's brilliant congressman, "from overwork, nervous tension, loss of sleep and constant speaking I had about utterly collapsed. It seemed that all the organs in my body were out of order, but three bottles of Electric Bitters made me all right. It's the best all-round medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter." Overworked, run down men and weak, sickly women gain splendid health and vitality from Electric Bitters. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed. At Cotter's drug store.

The Assassination of Sheriff Beeler.

Hon. A. F. Banta is in receipt of a private letter from St. Johns, Apache county, in which the writer says:

"As you have heard some time ago that Ed. Beeler shot and killed Monte Slaughter in Springerville last January. Well, on the 12th instant P. Slaughter, a boy of 17, brother of the deceased Monte Slaughter, and M. Jarrell, a cousin of the Slaughters, aged 22 years, ambushed Ed. Beeler from behind a pile of rocks about thirty yards distant from their victim. From their ambush they fired upon Mr. Beeler, the first two shots taking effect. The ex-sheriff after receiving the two shots and although badly wounded, succeeded in getting into a little sheltering arroya that was nearby. The assassins continued firing in an endeavor to finish their dastardly work, and fired eight more shots, killing one of Mr. Beeler's horses and wounding the other one; the two horses being hitched to a wagon. Mr. Beeler was armed only with a pistol, and at the time was engaged in building a pasture fence. He lived about seven hours and gave a clear and succinct account of the affair. The assassins made no attempt to conceal their identity and are now fleeing from justice with Sheriff Ortega and party hot on their trail. The murderers have twelve hours the advantage of the sheriff and posse.

New Telephone Cable.

Supt. Frank Blaisdell, of the Yuma Telephone Company, is putting up an ante-induction cable to take the place of the numerous telephone wires. The cable simply consists of 100 separate wires enclosed in a non-conducting tube of India-rubber, and is one of the latest improvements in telephone service.

Reader,

If you want the greatest amusement game of the century, for parties, for "twos," for solitude, for you—something to while away pleasantly the idle hours, send one dime to box 1017, Sunset Publishing Company, Los Angeles, California. 24t4

Mr. J. Vance Lewis, of Takoma Park, a suburb of Washington, D. C., and his son, Charles Lewis, arrived in Yuma yesterday and are in the market for a slice of the rich Colorado valley, upon which the young Mr. Vance desires to locate and become a tiller of the soil, or a grower of alfalfa. Mr. Lewis and his son visited the Sentinel office yesterday to make inquiries regarding lands for sale in the valley. Mr. Lewis is an attorney and makes a specialty of pulic land law, havinghad long experience in the general land office and in practice before that office. Both the young man and his father are very pleasant and agreeable gentlemen and the Sentinel would be pleased to see them become property holders in the valley. They have rooms at Hotel Gandolfo.

The following party of prospective land investors from California arrived on last night's train and left this morning for the head of the Imperial canal on a tour of investigation: H. P. McCusick, Norwalk, Cal.; Will S. Fawcett, Whittier; Mrs. S. C. Abbott, Compton; W. H. Holloway, Whittier; M. H. Walker, Kernville.

Capt. B. A. Frazier, one of the pioneer citizens of Willcox, is stopping at Hotel Gandolfo. The captain is one of the successful cattlemen of the territory, and is here to secure some of the rich lands of the Colorado valley, which he thinks is all right and has a bright future.

HART NEARLY ESCAPES.

The Condemned Murderer of Matt. De Vane Cuts His Shackels and Gets Close to Liberty.

"In two minutes more I'd have given you fellows some target practice, anyway," said Thomas Hart yesterday to a group of deputies and others when he found that his attempt to get out of jail had been thwarted. Between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday County Recorder Cronin went to the hydrant in the jail yard for a drink of water. The hydrant is near the northeast corner of the jail building, and while drinking, Mr. Cronin's attention was attracted by the sound of falling dirt. Glancing at the adobe wall he soon discovered where the dirt was coming from and a Sherlock Holmes was not needed to divine its meaning—one of the prisoners was "digging out." Somewhat perturbed but not "rattled," Mr. Cronin acted quickly. Going to his office he returned at once with a gun, and having given the alarm hurried to the jail, where a crowd of officers and attaches of the court house quickly gathered. Hart was found safe enough in his cell, but with his shackles cut in two—and in a disagreeable frame of mind, which is not to be wondered at, for if Recorder Cronin had not discovered what was going as soon as he did, Hart would have breathed free air at least temporarily, and might have made good his escape.

Foiled by so narrow a margin, Hart was in a bad humor. "By ——," he said, "I'm out o' luck; some of you knock me on the head! Only two minutes more, though, and I'd have given you some elephant target practice if nothing more come of it." The aperture through the wall was only a few inches from the ground and required but a little enlargement at the outer edges to permit Hart's crawling through very readily. It was a close call and the prisoner will hardly have another such opportunity. Sheriff Livingston has encumbered him with an "Oregon boot" and soldered up the keyhole of the same; besides he has been placed in solitary confinement. The supervisors have ordered a steel cell, in which Hart will be placed as soon as it arrives. Every precaution will be taken and unless providence or the supreme court intervenes, and neither is within the probabilities, Thomas Hart before many moons will expiate the murder of under-sheriff DeVane by the hemp necktie route. The saw used by the prisoner could not be found. Hart says he broke it and threw it into the vault.

Ever since the capture of the murderer he has been confined in the territorial prison, but Supt. Brown turned him over to the county authorities a few days ago, as he did not want him on the hill any longer. Mr. Brown says that there was hardly a convict who was not desirous that Hart should escape, and they were planing all the time to that end. As Hart was a most desperate and resourceful criminal, besides being the county's rightful charge and not his, he decided to turn him and the responsibility for his safe keeping over to the Sheriff.

Hart was sentenced to hang May 17, but a stay of execution having been secured on an appeal, his lease of life has been lengthened at least until the supreme court passes upon the evidence upon which a new trial will be asked.

Professor E. C. Engelhardt, late of Denver, arrived in Yuma last week on his way to Los Angeles, where he will establish his headquarters, as a mining expert and chemist. Prof. Engelhardt, is one of the most thoroughly practical mining men of the country, and has directed the construction of many mills, smelters and cyanide plants in Colorado, Montana, Mexico and California—more, perhaps, than any other man. He is a thorough chemist, having the advantage of a scientific education obtained both in the United States and Germany.

Cassius M. Coe, editor and proprietor of the Nome Gold Digger, who has been stopping at hotel Gandolfo for several months, leaves to-night for Scottsdale, a small settlement some ten miles from Phoenix. We are sorry to see Mr. Coe leave Yuma, but as he believes the change will be beneficial to him, the Sentinel most sincerely hopes that his most sanguine hopes may be realized, and that when he returns to Yuma again it may be with health and strength fully restored.

Sheriff S. S. Stout of Maricopa county, brought down a convict and lodged him on the hill yesterday. His name is Juan Rosas, and he has a three years sentence to serve for assault with intent to kill. Sheriff Stout returned to Phoenix on last night's train.

A clear brain and healthy body are essential for success. Business men, teachers, students, housewives, and other workers say Hood's Sarsaparilla gives them appetite and strength and makes their work seem easy. It overcomes that tired feeling.
