SAYS PERSHING HAD 2 CHILDREN BY A QUERIDA

SENSATIONAL CHARGES ARE MADE BY THE MANILA AMERICAN.

SIMILAR TO BURBANK CASE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT SENT TO ZAMBOANGO TO INVESTIGATE.

Claims Made That First Child Died and That Officer Made Provisions for the One Living.

Copies of the Manila, P. I., American, just received at Fort Leavenworth, contain a sensational three column article charging that Brigadier General J. J. Pershing, recently promoted from a captaincy, a son-in-law of Senator Warren, lived in Zamboanga with a Filipino woman and is the father of two children born to her. The article was evidently written in an endeavor to get copies of the paper to the United States and the matter before the senate before General Pershing's promotion could be confirmed, but arrived too late.

The American says:

Loath to believe that the president of the United States should have appointed an unworthy officer to the rank of brigadier general, if such were the case, but still, on the other hand, unwilling to disregard, for the reputation of the army, the report of a creditable nature, The Manila American, that has ever endeavored to do justice to the army, last month sent a special representative to Zamboanga, Mindanao, to make a thorough investigation on the ground.

It found Joaquina Bondy Ignacio, now legally the wife of a man named Shinn, who admitted being the querida of Captain John J. Pershing. The woman further admitted that Petronila Bondoy Ignacio, born July, 1902, was her child, and the captain, she claimed, was its father.

Offered Hush Money?

Shinn, the foster father, stated that friends of Captain Pershing had approached his wife, Joaquina, offering "hush-money" in fifty dollar monthly payments if she would never admit this. This offer was made during the spring of this year. It was refused with the statement that Captain Pershing had always treated her with the greatest of consideration and she wouldn't "peach."

Shinn was asked, in the presence of Joaquina, what the status of the child then was. He said he had adopted it as his own. It had been baptized Petronila Bondoy Ignacio in the parish church at Zamboanga. This, Shinn explained, was before his church marriage ceremony had ecclesiastically approved his civil marriage with Joaquina. Asked if this certificate of baptism could not be used to show that the child was born of his union, he exclaimed: "No; don't you see the baptism of 'Nena' was before we were married in the church, about a year ago." Verification of this statement by the church records showed that the child was baptized as an "hija natural" (one whose parternal parent's name is not given). The little foster child is best described as bright and cute. Obedient, generally, but childishly headstrong at times, her repentance is sublime, endearing. "The sweetest little girl that ever lived," said Shinn in conversation with an American man. "Last night I spanked her because she wouldn't do what I told her. She just looked hurt—wouldn't cry, but stayed awake all night. And in the morning she woke me up and said: 'Papa'—she calls me papa now—'Papa, dispensa to con Nena.' (Papa, pardon Nena.) I couldn't help but love her, she looked so sorry."

The American's Discoveries.

The American also learned of a house said to have been purchased by Pershing in which Joaquina had lived and where Captain Pershing, while at Zamboanga, had visited her. An offer to Shinn of a few hundred pesos for the purchase of the house was declined. Asked if that was not enough, Shinn replied: "Yes, it's as much as the house is worth, I guess, but I can't sell it." "Why not?" was asked. "Why, we're holding it in trust from the captain for Nena. When she gets old enough, she gets it; so we're keeping it." "What captain left it?" "Why," replied Shinn, "Pershing." The historic shack is not attractive to the eye even now. What it will be when Nena comes into her heritage will be a question for the elements to decide. From its appearance, one would be led to believe that there had already been some little debate along those lines. The number of the house is 108 Calle Sta. Maria. It is situated on makes life a burden as thousands of suffering men and women know. Food does not do any good. There is no energy for business or pleasure. Headache, sleeplessness, yellow skin, coated tongue indicate that the liver is not doing its work and the bile is not being carried off.

Warner's Safe Cure

which is purely a vegetable compound, is an absolutely safe and permanent cure for all inflammatory and other diseases of the liver. It corrects the functional trouble by increasing the flow of bile into the bowels to a healthy standard and keeping it so. It removes all the waste material and obstructive agents within the circulation and structure of the liver, and by its tonic and purifying properties brings to a condition of perfect harmony all the important organs of the body.

In diseases of the liver, the bowels are usually constipated because the flow of bile is lessened. WARNER'S SAFE PILLS quickly relieve this condition, and no ill after-effect is experienced.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is put up in two sizes and is sold by all druggists or direct at 50 CENTS and $1.00 A BOTTLE. Refuse substitutes containing harmful drugs which injure the system.

SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE. A sample bottle of WARNER'S SAFE CURE will be sent postpaid to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., ROCHESTER, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in The Times.

FORGER IS AT LARGE; HAS CAUGHT VICTIMS

S. M. Dotterer, Third and Ottawa, One Who Had Too Much Faith in Mankind.

An unknown man about 25 years of age, walked into the drug store of S. M. Dotterer of Third and Ottawa streets at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and asked if a check for $5 could be cashed. Not thinking that the check was bogus, Mr. Dotterer promptly cashed it. The check was made out on the First National bank check and was payable to bearer, signed, "James A. Burns."

At the bank the check was pronounced a forgery, and then the police were notified, but the check passer had made his get-away before the police knew anything of the matter.

A report was circulated about town yesterday that a number of other local merchants had been roped in, by cashing forged checks, but nothing was known of such reports at the police station yesterday.

SNOW FOLLOWED THE SPRING-LIKE WEATHER

About Two Inches Fell Yesterday Afternoon, but Being Damp, Not Much Remained.

After two weeks of fine, spring-like weather, and then two days of wavering cold weather, Leavenworth was given another dose of snow yesterday. The fall of the beautiful began about 3:30 o'clock with small, hardly distinguishable flakes, but at 4 o'clock they were as large as 5-cent pieces. In all about two inches of snow fell. Had it been dry it would probably have amounted to three or four inches, but being wet, much of it melted.

Towards midnight this morning the snow, which earlier in the evening had begun to melt, began to freeze, and being accompanied by a stiff breeze made it quite disagreeable to pedestrians and horses. According to the telegraph reports the northern states are in the throes of a wild snow storm.

LITTLE BUSINESS WAS TRANSACTED BY COUNCIL

Owing to the absence of Mayor Everhardy from the city, Councilman Jack Ryan, president, presided at the council meeting last night, nearly all of the councilmen being present. The only item of importance transacted was in allowing James M. Allen $27.21 for damage done to his property recently by a sewer.

A request of Mitchell hospital for aid and assistance was referred to the committee on ways and means.

After talking a few minutes the meeting was adjourned.

MISSOURI PACIFIC IS NOW PAYING BY CHECK

Yesterday was pay day with the local employes of the Missouri Pacific. No, the pay car did not visit Leavenworth, but a large bunch of envelopes did and they were distributed to the employes at the freight house by E. W. Waynant, freight agent. This is the first time in many years that the pay car has not visited Leavenworth to pay the employes every month.

"KNOX HATS"

THE INSULTER OF WOMEN OF KANSAS GIVEN 6 MONTHS

JUDGE FLYNN GETS ANOTHER CHANCE AT ROBERT EDWARDS.

HOW HE DID SCORE THE MAN

ONE WHO DOUBTED WHETHER THERE WERE GOOD WOMEN IN STATE.

Edwards and Woman of Questionable Character Living Together in Klondike—She Got Three Months.

That Judge Flynn got the chance and took it to "stick" the man who made the remark in the city court a short while ago that he "didn't think there were any decent women in the state of Kansas," was the source of much gratification for all officials of the court house and others who were present yesterday when Robert Edwards stood up and was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Robert Edwards, who lives in Bain City, and Lulu Laster, a woman who at first claimed that she was a stranger here, but upon investigation proved to be an old time resident, were arrested Tuesday night by Sheriff Brown on a warrant sworn out by parties in the Klondike, who have been trying to make that a fit place to live in, on the charge of notorious and indecent conduct.

Edwards, it will be remembered, was before this same court just a few weeks ago on a charge similar to this in company with a woman named Ethel Walker. At that time on account of his age, which he gave as 66 years, and the probability that it might be a case of an old man imposed upon, the court was very lenient with him, imposing only a very small fine which he paid.

What Made the Judge Angry.

It was at this trial and after sentence had been pronounced that Edwards made the statement that he "didn't think there were any decent women in the state of Kansas." Judge Flynn at that time proceeded to rake him up one side and down the other and told him that it was only the fact that he hadn't properly considered what he said or he would give him something to remember him by. He then fined him for contempt. When Edwards and the Laster woman were arraigned before the judge yesterday morning, he at first failed to recognize Edwards, but during the man's plea for leniency and in telling his part of the affair Edwards referred to the fact that he had been before the court once before. Then the judge straightened up in his chair and started fireworks that would have made a Fourth of July celebration look like a chimney burning out. Edwards and the woman both admitted that they were in Edwards' house, out in the Klondike, when the sheriff came, but as their stories were so vastly different as to why she was there, how long she had been there and as to their intentions, that it was not a matter of whether they were guilty or not, but how heavy the fine should be.

Sheriff Brown when asked by the judge if he knew anything against the defendants took the stand for about fifteen minutes and gave the court a history of both principals, especially the woman, which proved decidedly racy and was much help to the judge in his decision.

A Slight Remembrance.

After Judge Flynn learned the identity of the man he suddenly called a halt in the proceedings and it was but a few minutes until both were on the way to the county jail. In addressing Edwards before pronouncing sentence, he said: "At first I did not recognize you, but now when I find that you are the same old man who stood up here once before and made remarks about the women of the state of Kansas that were repulsive in the extreme, I will now give you something to remember me by. It is almost inconceivable how such old 'birds' as you will repeatedly commit such offenses as these and are the lowest degenerates in a neighborhood where good hard-working men are trying to live a law abiding life and rear their children.

"I think it is my duty to place you where a few of those frisky kinks will be taken out of your system and where bean soup will be served regularly. Six months in the county jail."

The judge then proceeded to make Lulu Laster very uncomfortable with a few descriptive adjectives that might as well have come from a red hot oven and wound up by handing her a package labeled "Three months in the county jail."

MRS. ROSE ROGAN DIED LATE TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Rose Rogan died at her home in Mount Olivet late Tuesday night, aged 87 years.

Mrs. Rogan was the widow of the late John Rogan who died about two years ago. She was born in Ireland, but had been a resident of this county for nearly fifty years. She is survived by one son, Felix Rogan, who resides on the old Rogan homestead; one sister, Mrs. Katherine Rooney of this city, several grandchildren, nieces and nephews. Mrs. P. H. Madden and James Bannon of Kansas City are niece and nephew respectively of the deceased.

The funeral will take place from the Catholic church at Mount Olivet at 10 o'clock this morning, and the interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

CHICAGO NORTHWESTERN MAY TOUCH THIS CITY

Looking for Route From Des Moines, Ia., to Kansas City Along the River.

From all indications Leavenworth will probably secure another railroad: the Chicago Northwestern. This railroad is contemplating building a line south from Des Moines, Ia., passing through St. Joe and south to Kansas City passing through Platte county, Missouri.

One report has it that the Northwestern will use the route built for the electric line connecting Excelsior Springs, St. Joseph and Kansas City, which is directly east of the hills at Beverly. Another report is that it will form an alliance with the Burlington and use its tracks from St. Joseph; and still another, but an unlikely one is that it will buy the stock of the Chicago Great Western, and use it as a gateway to Kansas City from Des Moines. The Maple Leaf now owns the shortest and quickest route to the Iowa capital.

If the Vanderbilt road uses the electric route or Burlington, Leavenworth will secure another plug system, and if the Maple Leaf is purchased it will secure another main line road.

The Chicago Northwestern is one of the longest and prosperous roads of the northwest.

PRISON TEACHERS LIKE MR. HASKELL

Pass Resolutions Stating That They Have Unlimited Confidence in the Warden.

Perhaps the greatest testimonial to Warden Haskell's ability as head of the institution over which he has been placed was shown when the teachers of the state prison school got together and voluntarily framed a set of resolutions which they presented to him. They were a great surprise to the warden and appreciated by him, because in them is the sentiment of sincere respect and good feeling. Nowhere is a man so well known as he is by those with whom he comes in contact and the resolutions presented to him are indicative of the common feeling of all the prisoners towards him.

The resolutions follow:

Whereas, The teachers and pupils of the Kansas state prison school having received substantial encouragement and moral support at the hands of Warden W. H. Haskell, we desire to express our appreciation of his untiring zeal in our behalf, of his magnanimous response to our needs, of his uniform kindness to us, collectively and individually.

Therefore, Be it resolved by the Teachers' club of the Kansas state prison that in Warden Haskell we recognize a scholar, gentleman and friend of rare worth, whose great heart is ever open, whose ready ear is ever inclined, and whose master mind is ever willing to receive, hear and guide his unfortunate wards.

Resolved, That we have unlimited confidence in our warden, that we respect his devotion to duty, and heartily endorse his administration, in consequence of which, regarding him as a just and worthy official, and distinguished citizen, we pledge him our sincere loyalty and hearty co-operation.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and the secretary be instructed to cause a copy to be properly engrossed and presented to the warden.

FRED KISER SHOT AND KILLED BY A MEXICAN TUESDAY

Father Yesterday Received a Telegram Announcing the Death.

AT HAIQUAHALLA, ARIZONA

A Younger Brother Who Had Been Making His Home With Fred Wired to Bring the Body Home.

S. H. Kiser, who resides at No. 213 Vine street, received a telegram yesterday from Haiquahalla, Ariz., announcing the death of his son, Fred Kiser, 25 years of age, who is well known in Leavenworth. The telegram was brief and simply said that Fred had been shot yesterday (Tuesday) by a Mexican and died this morning (Wednesday).

Fred Kiser will be remembered by nearly all Leavenworthians as he was born and reared here and lived here with his relatives until about three years ago when he accepted a position with the Leavenworth Bridge works and was sent to Sherman, Texas, where he fell from a bridge and sustained injuries which necessitated his quitting the work at which he was then employed. Later he went to Yuma county, Ariz., and while in discharge of duties connected with this office probably received his death wound.

A younger brother made his home with Fred for some time and S. H. Kiser yesterday upon receipt of the message telling of the death of his son sent word to his younger son, Frank, to return to Leavenworth with the body. No funeral arrangements have been made at present and probably none will be made until the body arrives here.

Particulars leading up to Fred's death are lacking and the telegram announcing his death gave no clue with the exception that he was shot by a "greaser," as is stated above. S. H. Kiser expects a more definite message before the body arrives in this city, however.

Accidents will happen, but the best-regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for such emergencies. It subdues the pain and heals the hurts.

ANOTHER BIG RISE IN THE RIVER WEDNESDAY

Came Up Over Two Feet in Twenty-four Hours—Believed It Will Come Higher.

The Platte river in Nebraska is again out of its banks, delaying trains, flooding farm lands and raising both the Platte and Missouri rivers, especially the "Big Muddy." The river gauge at the Terminal bridge yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock registered 43.2, a rise of two feet and four tenths since Tuesday at the same hour.

Besides raising the river to an alarming stage, the Platte river has filled in with floating ice, logs, debris and other stuff which was caught among the many ice gorges which broke recently, and which are still breaking, according to the last reports. All day yesterday the river surface was covered with it. While many of the river-men were willing to secure some of the big logs, still none was willing to venture out into the swift stream and face the danger of being capsized by a cake of ice.

Oliver Oursler, superintendent of the Terminal bridge, received word yesterday that the Platte river would rise several feet more, and if this is true the water will begin crawling up to the danger mark, on the bridge, which is about forty-eight feet.

Trainmen on the Omaha trains of the Missouri Pacific said yesterday that over 3,000 feet of track at Plattsmouth, Neb., was flooded, and that while the bridge over the Platte was repaired it was still dangerous to run trains over it. The "Mop" trains are still run over the Lincoln branch of the "Q," out of the flooded district.

JOHN SHERMAN IS TO BE TRIED BY A JURY

Demanded That One Hear His Case—Frank Marlowe Won't Be Tried This Morning.

The hearing of John Sherman, charged with disturbing the peace in the Klondike, will be in the city court this morning. The defendant has demanded that he be tried by a jury of twelve men and the judge has granted this. The complaining witness is Sophia Kessler and Sherman's disturbing act is said to have taken place February 11.

Harry Young, the colored man charged with stabbing Henry Hardy in the back with a knife at the Carr mine January 19, has not yet had his preliminary examination which was set for yesterday morning. Hardy was unable to appear so the hearing went over until February 27.

Frank Marlowe, charged with the murder of Isaac Johnson, will not have his preliminary hearing this morning, as it had been docketed. The jury trial in the Sherman case will take up the time of the court so Marlowe will not be brought into the court for his hearing until February 27 at 1 p. m.

LICENSES AND MARRIAGES

Probate Judge Johnson yesterday married Morris Jacobs and Annie E. Cain, both of Douglass county, Kan., and William L. Temple and Rilla Cromwell, both of Jackson county, Mo., and issued a license to George S. Ward and Florence H. Kemp, both of Leavenworth.

An enterprising German has patented a device for fitting photographs to doors. As the customer enters the door of a shop, a voice will call out: "Flour is cheaper today," "New consignment of special quality mincemeat just received; try some," and similar invitations.

A PARDON ARRIVES FOR DEAD CONVICT

Henry Jones Who Died a Few Days Ago Wanted to Pass Away at His Old Home

Out in the lonely cemetery of the Lansing prison is a newly made grave and in the chief clerk's office at the penitentiary is a pardon that came too late for the man who was buried there last week.

The man was Henry Jones, an Oklahoma prisoner whose illness had been considered serious for some time. Several months ago the prison officials notified Governor Frantz that Jones could not live and wanted to go home before he died. But down in Oklahoma they move slowly when it comes to getting a man out of prison and very quickly when they railroad him in.

Oklahoma has a reputation of dealing out quicker and more different brands of justice than any state in the union. Probably that's the western spirit of the day of a rope and a tree that is still clinging to her.

And then, besides they've been mighty busy down there framing up a constitution and while the big men and the little men fought and squabbled as to who was going to be "it" on the convention it didn't make any difference if a sick convict up in the Kansas prison died, weary with waiting for the pardon that came after it was too late to do him any good.

Jones, who was just a young boy, came into the prison in December, 1905, to serve a five years' term for grand larceny. He hadn't been in long until consumption developed which was accompanied by paralysis. The doctor several months ago decided that the boy could not live and the Oklahoma authorities were notified. The pardon that came yesterday was the result.

It is said that Jones had relatives in Oklahoma who were well fixed. He had intended going to them if he had been released. While he had good care and attention at the prison he was like nearly all the others who die there, he didn't want the end to come inside the walls.

WHY M. P. TRAINS CAN'T GET IN HERE ON TIME

Using a Single Track From Atchison to St. Joseph Has Demoralized Schedule.

The Missouri Pacific trainmen running out of St. Joseph, Mo., say that they are getting a "dirty deal" by running over the single track of the Rock Island-Santa Fe to Atchison. While the officials have not voiced their opinion, the belief is that the "Mop." would like to renew its alliance with the Burlington, over whose tracks it ran for twenty-six years, prior to last Saturday morning.

More than forty passenger trains and thirty freight trains run over the single track and this is what is knocking the "Mop" trains out; causing them to arrive here from twenty minutes to an hour late. It is believed that the Rock Island and Santa Fe roads, which own the line, will use the old Santa Fe roadbed to St. Joe and lay another track on this, making a double track line to St. Joe and eliminating the blockade. This bed follows the present single track nearly all the way from Atchison.

The staff system, train orders, side tracks and trainmen are all doing their level best to make the new route a success, but their efforts only delay matters and trains. Nothing can be done until a second track is laid between Atchison and St. Joseph. If this cannot be done the Gould road will be compelled to return to the Burlington, or, as a Missouri farmer advised recently, build its own bridge across the Missouri river near Kickapoo or above Atchison and strike across country from either place. Either route would land the road at the Missouri city in about the same time.

TUNNEL FROM LANSING TO ATCHISON—A DREAM

What Clarence Smith Had in Mind Last Night While Smoking His Briar Pipe.

C. C. Smith, ex-coroner, when asked yesterday regarding the historic park he and some of the residents of Kickapoo township are planning, lighted his pipe, containing a new brand of tobacco, and said:

"Just as soon as John Taylor and John Hund can interest John Davitz, the Oak Mills merchant, in it, we will start work. We have a new scheme by which we will have an underground railway. It is proposed to tunnel from the state prison mine through to the Carr mine, then to the Riverside, Home and North shafts and from there to Kickapoo where we will dig a mine. We will also connect our tunnel to the Atchison mine so that it will be possible for one to go down into the state mine shaft and come out in Atchison.

"By this plan we will be able to make the tunnel pay for itself by selling the coal. The railway track we will put in to take out the coal in cars will be left in and used for the cars of the underground railway.

"Will you get the rights from the property owners under whose land you will pass to remove the coal; and will you get permission of the government to tunnel under the reservation?" was asked by the reporter.

Taking another whiff from his imitation amber stemmed briar pipe Smith said:

"Well, now, I hadn't thought of that; I'll have to talk to Phil Husser and the other fellows." And then his pipe went out.

FRED KISER SHOT AND KILLED BY A MEXICAN TUESDAY

Father Yesterday Received a Telegram Announcing the Death.
