“Are You Ok?” is a telephone reassurance program which is offered free of charge to eligible senior citizens.

This program allows a person the comfort and security needed to maintain personal independence while providing peace of mind to family and friends.
The “Are you OK?” Program is a FREE telephone reassurance service that ensures daily contact with senior citizens and/or disabled persons that live alone and may not have a family member living locally that can check on them every day. This program allows a person the comfort and security needed to maintain personal independence while providing peace of mind to family and friends.

How the Program Works
The “Are You Ok?” system makes daily computer generated calls to subscribers at their pre-determined time each day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. If the subscriber is okay, they simply hang up the phone after hearing the pre-recorded message.

What Happens If You Don’t Answer?
If the subscriber does not answer or if the telephone line is busy, the computer will call the subscriber a second time. If there is still no answer or the telephone line stays busy after the second attempt, the computer will issue an alert and generate a printout with the subscriber’s name, address and other pertinent information. Upon receiving the alert, a dispatcher will attempt to contact the subscriber by phone to check on their welfare. If the dispatcher is unable to make contact with the subscriber, a deputy will be dispatched to the residence to check on the welfare of the subscriber or the appropriate agency will be contacted to request a welfare check.
